One of the most rewarding things we can do in life is educate our youth, and provide experiences to help them grow as individuals. At Evans, we have five brand pillars that guide us on a day to day basis. They are; Heritage, Passion, Innovation, Simplified Systems, and People. Last week we had the opportunity to help our youth, while showcasing each of our pillars. The Girl Scout's visit to Evans Distribution Systems, last week, was a great success. We are very thankful to have the opportunity to work with great partners to make an event such as this a reality for our youth.

Girl Scouts of Southeastern Michigan brought around 65 girls to Evans to learn more about the cookie supply chain. There was a brief introduction, two 45 minute breakout sessions, and a question and answer segment at the end. In one room, Little Brownie Bakers taught half of the girls about how the cookies are made and brought to Evans. This included cookie trivia, and interactive learning about cookie logistics. The other half of the group went out to the fulfillment area of the Evans warehouse to learn about fulfillment and shipping of the cookies. Each girl had the opportunity to pick and pack their own order of three different cookies, which they placed on the UPS truck for delivery to their house. UPS also talked about parcel shipping, and what happens to the boxes of cookies after they leave the Evans facility.

Our goal was to show these Girl Scouts what happens after the "click" on the Digital Cookie website. The girls, and parents were thrilled, and had a great time with the experience.

We want to say thank you to Girl Scouts of the USA, Girl Scouts of Southeastern Michigan, Little Brownie Bakers, and UPS for the great partnerships, and for making this event the great success that it was.

We've included some photos of the event on the next page. As well, you can see all of the photos from our event at www.evansdist.com/GirlsLoveFulfillment.

"This event was very well organized and executed. My Troop had a great time and were happily surprised and excited to be able to ship themselves Girl Scout cookies. They learned about all of the logistics of baking, shipping, and distribution of a product first hand. Kudos to Evans, Little Brownie Baker, GSSEM and UPS for a wonderful event. So many smiling faces and friendly and helpful staff."
